NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT. N. C., Sept. 9, '98.

Ogden Bodenheimer narrowly escaped a fatal injury yesterday while trying to put a belt on a pully at the Southern Chair Factory. The stick he was using was knocked from his hands and one end entered just behind the collar bone and penetrated the left lung. Dr. Stanton assisted by Drs Burton and Bodenheimer dressed the wound. We are glad to know that while he is very sore he is resting easy today. We trust he is not injured as bad as reported and will soon be out again.

All of the High Pointers who attended the rally and barbecue at Asheboro yesterday, speak in the highest terms of the occasion and the hospitality of our Asheboro neighbors.

Dr. J. A. Turner returned last night from Alamance county where he has been to see his father who is ill.

Mrs. B. F. and Nannie Little, of Greensboro passed through this morning enroute to Asheboro to visit friends and relatives.

Supt. Calvin Osborne and wife, of the Friend's orphanage, left this morning for their home in Indiana.

H. B. Varner, editor of the Lexington Dispatch passed through today.

N.C. English, J. G. Frazier and J. J. White, of Trinity and A. J. Tomlinson, of Archdale, returned this morning from Raleigh where they have been attending the populist convention.

A. H. Mitchell returned this morning from Alexandria after spending a month there.

Hons. A. Leazar, of Mooresville, and Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, passed through last night returning home from the democratic rally at Asheboro.

Miss Estelle Curlee, one of our bewitching youug ladies, left this morning for Rockingham to visit relatives.

Rev. Chas. Farriss, professor of Greek in Stetson University, Deland, Fla., and wife who have been visiting in Virginia, stopped over last night to spend a few days with relatives before returning home.

The mothers' meeting of the members of the W. C. T. U. that was held yesterday afternoon in the Baptist Mission building in the Eastern part of the city was exceedingly well attended. A very interesting and appropriate address was made by Mrs. Meade Kelsey; also several appropriate selections were read by Mrs. E. J. Dyer, Mrs. Wm. Tate and Miss Ester Gilbert, after which refreshments were served. They all report an exceedingly nice time.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING

Spent in Social Enjoyment at Mr. E. E. Richardson's.

A very enjoyable social was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Richardson at their residence on King street, complimentary to visiting young ladies, Misses Kate Pullar and Violet Richardson, of Richmond, Va.

Quite a goodly number of Greensboro's young people were in attendance and it looked as though all enjoyed themselves to a very high degree.

With Miss Lizzie Crocker at the piano and Messrs. Elam, Lawson, Woodroffe and Forbis with string and wind instruments, music was made which would have been enjoyed and admired by a musical critic. El Capitan, The Bride-Elect and The Nation's Pride March were among the favorites.

The recitations of Miss Pullar were were greatly enjoyed and encored, not so much by clapping of hands, but by expressions of appreciation from every one present. The singing of Miss Richardson was also very entertaining. She has a rich contralto voice and she knows how to use it.

At the proper time the guests were invited to the dining room where the best of refreshments were served. At 11:25 they departed for their respective homes, and many were the thanks tendered Mr. and Mrs. Richardson for the pleasant evening.

To Perfect Appeal.

D. Schenck, Jr., returned from Lexington this morning and left immediately for Raleigh where he expects to find Judge Timberlake and perfect the appeal of Sam Lucas, the murderer, for whom he is attorney. The Supreme court meets in Raleigh at an early date and Lucas will soon know whether or not he will be granted a new trial. He has little hope and spends several hours at prayers every day. It is said he prays as long as three hours at a time.

THE "MINERALINE" QUESTION

Mr. York Makes a Statement About The Business.

AND QUOTES LEGAL OPINIONS

He Reiterates His Former Statement, However, That The Project Has Been Entirely Abandoned.

Mr. Editor:

For the past few months we have been denounced by the press throughout the United States for a circular letter we sent out some time in May setting forth the advantages which would accrue to the miller in using "mineral white" as an adulteration for flour.

We presumed, in view of our positive statement, which was emphasized by you, that not a pound of this material had ever been shipped from our factory, that these adverse criticisms would cease and we refrained from making a statement, desiring to avoid any unnecessary notoriety, but as they have continued, unabated, in their scathing comment, it would seem to indicate a natural fondness or insatiable thirst for reviling mankind.

For the enlightment and edification of the newspapers who have commented so wisely on the legal status of the case, it may not be out of place to give below in full the opinion of an eminent attorney in the premises.

We feel confident that the cogent reasoning and sound logic of this document will convince all discerning minds that if we had shipped one hundred car loads we would in no way be amenable to the law and it might be proper just here to say that it is a noted question among able counsel as to whether this state could constitutionally prohibit us from manufacturing an article for which there is a legitimate market. The federal government could, of course, enact a law placing an internal revenue tax on the output of all soapstone and talc.

It is evident then that we have broken no temporal law.

As to our view of the moral phase of the question we can only say that after mature reflection, we decided not to engage in this business, notwithstanding the fact that we have on file, from some of the largest manufacturing establishments in this country intimating that they can use an amount which would far exceed the output of our factory and the profit from the sale thereof would satisfy the cupidity of any one.

As to the tirade of invectives the newspapers saw fit to hurl at us in the inception of this affair we have nothing to say and under the circumstances can hardly consider it reprehensible, but it does seem to us that this eternal and stinging reproach should take the ordinary course that nature has provided for all things and cease some time. If newspapers wish to make a habit of inveighing against all who infringe the moral law, as a usual thing they will not have to make excursions away from home, and before they attempt to expaciate on the application of the law, it might be a good idea to inform themselves as to man's liability before the law.

A great many things are permissible legally and even sanctioned and protected by the law that do not meet the approval of the people in general, and one possessing a proclivity for a morally questionable traffic, can hardly be expected to be restrained by this endless railing and publicity, especially when he sincerely disavowed his intention to proceed when his error was revealed to him.

We have a plant for the manufacture of dry paints and in selecting the crude materials to be pulverized for this market, we noticed the similarity of this article to flour and sent out the letters before fully considering the matter.

This material is used legitimately all over the world in the arts of trade and it is our present intention to manufacture it for this market.

In the matter of the manufacture of, the soliciting of orders for, and the sale of "mineral white":

Considering first the manufacture and sale, without regard for what purpose manufactured or sold: There is no principle of common law that can be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale of any commodity, so if the manufacture or sale of "mineral white" is criminal we must look to the statute law. There are certain statutes that prohibit the manufacture or sale of certain things, without first complying with certain provisions contained in the statutes. It is against the statute law of the United States to engage in the manufacture of spiritous liquors, or the sale of them, without first complying with the statute and paying the privilege tax levied by the statutes. But as to the manufacture or sale of a commodity known as "mineral white" or thing of like kind, there is no special statute and hence its manufacture or sale can violate no law.

Now as to the sale of the article "mineral white" or any other article with a knowledge amounting to a moral certainty that it is to be used in an illegal way: There are various statutes, both state and national, about the adulteration of food, but all of them apply to the person who engages in the manufacture of the adulterated food or who sells the adulterated food, knowing it to be adulterated at the time of selling. It cannot be that under any possible construction of any statute now in existence, either state or national, that a party who manufactures and sells a commodity that is used for legal purposes but which may be used for an illegal purpose, but who has no hand in putting it to illegal use, can be held guilty either as a principal or as an accomplice of violating the law. There are many commodities, good and wholesome in themselves, but when mixed with other commodities, they become bad and the adulterating commodity, and there is no crime in selling such as these.

One of the most common adulterations known to our section of the country is the adulteration of spirituous liquor by the use of concentrated lye. There have been indictments for this in our state and the seller of the lye was used as a witness. He was allowed to testify to the selling but not as to the purpose for which he supposed it was sold. Being morally certain of the use to which the commodity is to be put can have no bearing in any way upon the criminal liability of a person who simply sells but takes no part in putting the commodity to its illegal use In all the annals of the law there can be no case found that deals with one who has simply sold to another the means of violating the law. To indict such would be to restrict selling of almost everything, for there are few things indeed that cannot be put to an illegal use.

There is a United States statute against the selling of Oleomargarine, unless it is labelled, but no one would think of suggesting the butcher who sells the tallow from which the Oleomargarine is manufactured and sold without the legal labelling, was guilty of any crime. In this case the seller of the tallow takes no part in the illegal selling of the Oleomargarine and in our case the seller of the "mineral white" takes no part in the illegal adulteration of the flour, and has no interest in the profits arising from the sale of the adulterated article. Moral certainties are not evidence, and any one who places in the hands of another the power to violate the law, does no more than does the law when it permits the sale of a pistol with which a murder may be committed, and nature itself sets this example by placing in the power of all men the violation of the moral law.

The only United States statute about the adulteration of flour is in regard to the sale of what is technically known as mixed flour without having it so labelled. This "mixed flour" is a combiuination of meal and flour. Surely no one would attempt to argue that the party who sells the meal to a flouring mill, knowing it was to be used in the manufacture of "mixed flour," but who has no hand in the selling of the "mixed flour" and has no interest in the profits arising therefrom was an accessory to the violation of the law that the selling of flour is.

Now as to the use of the United States mails in furthering the sale of this "mineral white." It is not illegal to use the United States mail for the furthering of any legal business and we have above, considered whether the sale of "mineral white" is legal and have concluded that it is and it requires no logic to say, that beyond argument, the use of the mails to further its sales is entirely legal.

A look through the columns of any so called sporting paper will convine any one that the mails are being used daily for the furtherance of the sale of avowed ingredients to adulterate, and that so far as the articles go to show of ingredients that can be used for no other purpose than that of adulteration. For instance: "How to make three barrels of whiskey from one. All directions and necessary ingredients for $10 00," is an exact copy of an ad in a recent issue of the "Police Gazette," and it must be the opinion of all District Attorneys that such advertisements are legal, for all the reports of all the courts fail to furnish one case of an indictment for such use of the mails.

This opinion is—it has to be an opinion—based on logical reasoning, rather than cited legal opinion of courts of last resort. Diligent search fails to discover one opinion that can be called upon to support any reasoning for or against the legality of the manufacture or sale of "mineral white," or any other commodity which may, or likely will be, used in an illegal way or for an illegal purpose, and the only inference to be drawn from the absolute lack of precedents, is that there has been an absolute lack of prosecution and this is an unanswerable argument that such sale and manufacture is no violation of any phase of the criminal law.

A FORMIDABLE UNDERTAKING

The Investigation of Army Affairs a Hard Task.

NEW BATTLESHIP CONTRACTS

Washington Making Elaborate Preparations to Receive the District of Columbia Volunteers.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 9—Secretary Alger's request for an investigation of army affairs during the war is likely to be complied with, though it is not true that the president has, as yet, indicated his decision in the matter. There have been signs of his purpose in this direction.

The quartermaster general, the surgeon general and the commissary, upon whom the greatest blame will fall, have been anxious for an inquiry, each one of them assuring himself that he will emerge vindicated. The task of the commission is a formidable one. Nothing so gigantic has ever been undertaken before and many fear the enquiries will accomplish nothing.

NEW BATTLESHIP CONTRACTS.

Washington, Sept. 9—The navy department will make and award contracts, during the next few days, for battleships and torpedo boat destroyers. Cramps, the Newport News Company, and the Union Iron Works will each build battleships on the plans adopted by the department which contemplates a ship sixteen feet longer than that called for by the department specifications, and of sixteen thousand horse power and twelve thousand five hundred tons displacement.

VOLUNTEERS RETURN.

Washington, Sept. 9—The whole city is demoralized today by preparations for receiving the District of Columbia regiment of volunteers on their return home from the front. The public buildings along the proposed line of march are elaborately decorated and many private houses bristle with flags and streamers. The populace is out in full force and the white house entrance is blocked despite the efforts of the cordon of police.

The Admirals Reply.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Canea, Crete, Sept. 9—The admirals of the foreign powers, replying to the protests of the Cretan executive committee against the massacres, have declared they will recommend to their respective governments to solve the question definitely by the removal of the Turkish troops from the Island of Grete and the appointment of a governor selected by the powers.

Spaniards Homeward Bound.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Sept. 9—Fifty Spanish prisoners who were captured in the naval battle of July 3d, off the coast of Cuba, arrived at Jersey City at six ten this morning. There was no one to receive them and they went immediately to the Anchor Line dock where they boarded the City of Rome bound for home.

More Troops From Ponce.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM

Ponce, Sept. 9—The Alamo sailed early this morning with eighteen officers and five hundred men, part of the Second Wisconsin, First District of Columbia and Battery E, of the Pennsylvania artillery.

Twenty-Five Seriously Ill.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Sept. 9—Six hundred men of the First District of Columbia volunteers passed this morning on their way home. Among them were twenty-five who are seriously ill.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 9—Hon. Thomas F. Bayard is very weak today. There is no perceptible change from his condition last night, which was unfavorable.

Not a Peacemaker.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 9—It is announced that Senator Gray has declined to accept a place on the peace commission.

A Watch Stolen.

Today while Mr. W. B. Wyrick, who resides on North Green street, was at dinner some one entered his room and stole his watch, which had been left there. Suspicion rests on a colored man who was at work about the premises, and who had suddenly disappeared when Mr. Wyrick came out from dinner.

BROOKS FOR SOLICITOR.

The Committee Met Today and Selected Boone's Successor.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 9—The executive committee of the Fifth Judicial district met in this citp today and selected Mr. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, as the democratic candidate for solicitor, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. R. B. Boone, who withdrew from the race on account of ill health.

AN IMPRESSIVE SCENE.

The Dead Rites Over the Bodies of Wheeler and Kirkpatrick.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Wikoff, Sept. 9—The most impressive scene that has been witnessed here since the camp was organized was that which occurred this morning when Chaplain Bradshaw of the One Hundred and Seventy-first New York read the ritual for the dead over the bodies of Cadet Wheeler and Lieutenant Kirkpatrick who were drowned on Wednesday.

The ceremonies began at daylight, after which the bodies were taken to the train on artillery caissons escorted by cavalry. The whole camp showed sympathy for General Wheeler.

Deaths From Typhoid Fever.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Wikoff, Sept. 9—There have been four deaths from typhoid fever here today. Colonel Roosevelt has been relieved of the command of the second brigade of cavalry as his regiment is about to be mustered out.

"Refreshing" and "Delicious" are words that are often heard after people have tried Orange Phosphate at our fountain. Orange Phosphate is so common that it takes something extra to call forth such remarks. Our Orange Phosphate is delicious because it hasn't that celery pine wood taste. It has that acid taste that pleases.

MISLEADING.

Judge Clark refused to deliver his address to the board of trustees at the trial because it was ruled that this speech would be a jury room secret, and could not, therefore, be published. The Raleigh Post this morning contains a full report of the speech delivered by President Kilgo. This was also "a jury" room secret and accordingly should not have been divulged. Does Mr. Kilgo and his advisers think the people of North Carolina are a set of fools who can be duped in this manner?—Durham Record.

The above is misleading, whether ignorantly or maliciously it is not our business to judge. The Durham paper is, however, not excusable on the ground of ignorance, for in a grave matter like this the facts should be ascertained or else a guarded silence should be maintained.

Judge Clark having refused to act as prosecutor was thereby debarred from the privilege of making a speech before the board as prosecutor. Dr. Kilgo was the defendant and defended himself and was thereby entitled to make a speech, which he did. His speech was made before the board as an investigating committee and not after they had retired to the "jury room" for private consultation. It was, therefore, entitled to publication. The speech for the prosecution was made by Dr. Oglesby, the prosecutor, is a matter of record and will be published in the full proceedings.

Judge Clark being a trustee, was himself a member of the investigating board, and having declined to act as prosecutor was entitled only to make a speech giving his views, after the jury had retired for private consultation; and the most ignorant citizen knows that the secrecy of the jury room is one of the strongholds of the law and discussions therein are never made a matter of court record or paraded before the public in newspapers.

It is hard to believe that our Durham contemporary is so ignorant or uninformed as not to have seen this point, and just why such grossly misleading statements are persisted in is a matter of wonder to people who are willing that full justice shall be accorded to both sides.

Judge Clark chose his own course, and his friends should not complain of the hard lines he has wilfully brought upon himself. To the learned judge himself cannot be laid the charge of "ignorance."

There is to be at least one joint discussion of political issues in North Carolina this year. Hon. Chas. B. Aycock and Cyrus Thompson will discuss the issues Monday at Concord. It will be a battle of giants and will no doubt draw an immense crowd of people.

It would be interesting to know what will finally become of Theodore Roosevelt. They are now running him for governor of New York, and also for president of Brown University. In naming him for the latter place it is admitted that "it is not known whether he is a Baptist or not." Teddy ought to tell 'em to stop.

WHAT A WONDER.

The Greensboro Record and a few other democratic papers in the state give Judge Timberlake credit for being one of the best judges in the state for the quick transaction of business. He is a populist and it is wonderful that they can get the consent of their minds even to make a favorable allusion to a judge, other than a democrat.—Home Rule (Fusion).

There is nothing wonderful about that. The Telegram is also one of the papers which gives Judge Timberlake credit for being an upright and a hustling judge. Democrats up here have a way of telling the truth, and the wonder is that the Home Rule is so silly as to attempt to measure democratic corn in a fusion half-bushel. With its own selfish and narraw trend Home Rule is astounded to see a newspaper that does not denounce everybody as corrupt and vile who does not belong to a certain political faith or order.

Col. Hay Congratulated.

London, Sept. 8—A committee of the Anglo-American League, headed by its chairman, James Bryce, presented the United States ambassador, Colonel John Hay, today, with an address congratulating him upon his acceptance of the portfolio of Secretary of State, at Washington. They expressed regret at his departure from this country, "where you have discharged the weighty and delicate duties of ambassador with such eminent tact, judgment and courtesy as to win the cordial appreciation and confidence of the British people." Col. Hay made a suitable response.

Camp Alger a Thing of the Past.

Washington, Sept. 8—Camp Alger is practically a thing of the past. Only a few details remain as guards for government property. Today the Third Virginia, the last regiment in camp, departed for Richmond where they will be mustered out. The wagon train conveying the baggage and supplies of the second division started for Middletown, and the officers of the division staff left tonight.

Schooner Reported Lost.

Savannah, Sept. 8—The American schooner John H. Plate, Captain Ives, from New York, bound for Brunswick, is supposed to have been lost in the recent storm. It is reported that parts of a vessel on which the name was painted, came ashore on Tybee Island a few days ago.

Murdered in Their Beds.

Newark, O., Sept. 8—This afternoon John Boyd, a wealthy farmer, and his daughter, of Cambridge, were found dead in bed. They had been strangled to death. A son-in-law of Boyd was found unconscious. The house had been ransacked from top to bottom. No arrests have been made. Boyd had considerable money loaned out among persons living in the vicinity, and because of this fact some persons here believe the murder was committed by some of Boyd's neighbors.

ALGER ASKS FOR INVESTIGATION

Of the War Department—Blame to be Placed Where it Belongs.

Washington, Sept. 8—Secretary Alger has requested the president to order a thorough and searching investigation of the war department. In this request the secretary has been joined by Adjutant General Corbin.

Secretary Alger had a long conference with the president tonight before leaving the city, and the question was thoroughly discussed in all of its phases. Secretary Wilson participated in the conference, and General Corbin was present during a greater part of the time.

The question probably will receive consideration at the cabinet meeting tomorrow. While all the members of the Cabinet are not in the city, Secretaries Alger and Long, and Attorney General Griggs being among those who will not be present at tomorrow's meeting, it is said to be the whole subject with those of his advisers who may be there.

Should the investigation be ordered it will include, probably, all matters relating to the conduct of the war, so far as they concern the war department. Secretary Alger expresses himself as confident that such an investigation, if conducted promptly and thoroughly will result in much good.

Sensational stories and rumors of which the administration has present knowledge that there is no foundation, have circulated, and objection is made to dignifying them by the ordering of an investigation. By those who desire and advocate the investigation it is maintained it can do no possible harm, and may be of positive benefit in clearing away manifest error from the minds of many people and in placing the blame, if any is to be placed, where it rightfully belongs.

Secretary Alger Begins His Tour.

Washington, Sept. 8—Secretary Alger, accompanied by Mrs. Alger, his son, Captain Fred Alger; Major Hopkins, his aide, and Quartermaster General Luddington, left Washington at 10:40 o'clock tonight for Middletown, Pa., over the Pennsylvania railroad. The Secretary will spend the forenoon tomorrow in an inspection of the camp at Middletown, and will then proceed on his way to Detroit, where he will leave Mrs. Alger and his son, who is still ill from fever, following his service before Santiago. The secretary will then proceed to make an inspection of a number of the army camps, going as far south as Jacksonville, Fla., before starting back to Washington.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. 'Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Tellerites Justified.

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 8—The coroner's jury in the case of Chas. E. Harr's, killed Wednesday in the fight between rival factions in the silver republican party, rendered its verdict tonight, justifying the Teller faction in its endeavor to hold the opera house against the anti-Tellerites. The verdict says that the shot which killed Harris was fired by persons unknown to the jury.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23rd, says; "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., of Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by C. E. Holton.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has the largest sale of any salve in the world. This fact and its merit has led dishonest people to attempt to counterfeit it. Look out for the man who attempts to deceive you when you call for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great pile cure. Howard Gardner Grounds for Rejoicing.

There is ground for public rejoicing in the fact that two of the giant trusts of the country are at war with each other. At the beginning of a long and interesting narrative on the subject the New York Sun tells the story in these few brief sentences: "Two ancient antagonists have locked horns. John Arbuckle threw down the gauntlet to Henry O. Havemeyer and Havemeyer picked it up. The coffee importing firm of Arbuckle Brothers have taken up the refining of sugar. The American Sugar Refining Company has gone into the business of roasting coffee." Go it boots! The people will wish that each of these highwaymen may destroy the other, but there is more reason for the apprehension entertained by the Philadelphia Record, "that the two great combinations may now find terms of compromise and turn their joint attention to fleecing helpless consumers."—Charlotte Observer.

A MASTERLY PRODUCTION.

Rev. R. W. Weaver Preaches at Franklin (Ky) Baptist Association

In a report of the Franklin (Ky.) Baptist Association printed in the Baptist Argus, of Louisville, we find the following in reference Rev. Rufus W. Weaver, formerly of this city:

"The introductory sermon by Rev. Rufus Weaver was a masterly production. It was a historical account of the Elkhorn Association with the Elkhorn church 100 years ago. His graphic description of the life and times of the Rev. John Gans, the mightiest spirit among Kentucky Baptists a century ago, made the man and his surroundings a living reality. The association ordered this sermon printed in the minutes for permanent record growing out of this sermon the association appointed Col. Rodman to act with Drs. Sampey and Cody as a committee to secure the removal of the remains of John Gans from their present resting place at the Forks of Elkhorn to the cemetery at Frankfort, and the erection of a suitable monument to his memory."

Mr. Weaver was chosen as a delegate to the Southern Baptist Convention.

NO OFFICIAL ACTION

In the Case of Miles Nothing is Likely to be Done.

Washington, Sept. 8—The tension over General Miles criticism of army methods is gradually subsiding, and in high official quarters the belief was expressed tonight that no official attention would be paid to the criticism. In view of much loose conjecture over the imminence of a court-martial or court of inquiry for the trial of General Miles, it can be stated positively that those in authority have not, up to the present time, determined upon any such course of action, nor have they felt that such steps would be conducive to the best interests of the public service. In some high official quarters there is a disposition to look upon General Miles as being his own worst enemy, and to pass over his comments as ill advised, though not to the extent of constituting insubordination, or warranting official action by the president or war department.

New Post For Col. Roosevelt.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 7—The resignation of Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews as president of Brown University was formally presented to the corporation today and unanimously accepted. A committee to nominate a successor was appointed.

Among the candidates mentioned for the post of president of the university is Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. It is not known whether he is a Baptist, as the president is required by the constitution of the college to be, nor is it known that Col. Roosevelt would consider the offer, but he was mentioned by a member of the corporation as a desirable man for the place.

A correspondent of the New York Sun says the insurgent leader Roberto Bermudez personally directed his own execution, having first asked the officer in command of the firing squad to withdraw. When everything was ready he gave the command to fire, and a moment afterward fell mortally wounded. Unable to speak, he asked the soldiers by signs to dispatch him, and his request was complied with, a shot through the temples, ending his career.

The bullion dealers who purchased the Spanish gold, silver and notes found on the Infanta Maria Teresa after the battle of July 3, propose to dispose of the whole lot to the public at a premium over the face value, as interesting historical souvenirs. The coins are tarnished by fire and water and the notes stained.

"The Middle-of-the-Road, Populist" says The New York World, "are in the field thus early with a presidential ticket—Wharton Barker and Ignatius Donnelly. Platform, gold for teeth-plugging only; the printing press and green ink as the main source of unlimited money. An ice pack for the head is useful in such complaints."

An oysterman, who has been in the business more than a third of a century, says the second best oyster that grows is the Buzzard's Bay. It has only been on the market three years, but its popularity is shown by the fact that Delmonico's expert, when he first sampled this breed, secured all that he could lay his hands on. The Lynn Haven is, of course, granted first place by epicures.

More than twenty million free samples of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve have been distributed by the manufacturers. What better proof of their confidence in it's merits do you want? It cures piles, burns, scalds, sores, in the shortest space of time. Howard Gardner.

An Object of Pity.

Not the portly, pleasant faced, good humored gentleman who is dressed in one of our snug and correct fitting Hamburger Stouts, but that big fat fellow who shows by his manner that he feels that the world is against him—and it is all because his clothes don't fit. It is not his fault, but great misfortune. He bought before seeing us.

Fall suits ready for delivery. Our stouts run in sizes from 35 to 50.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

O. C. Wysong went to Mebane today.

Maj. Samuel H. Smith, of Winston, is in the city.

Hudson-on-the-Hill presents an attractive bill of fare for tomorrow.

H. B. Varner, of Lexington, editor of the Davidson Dispatch, is in the city.

Ex-Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis was in the city this afternoon returning from Asheboro.

Jesse F. Hoskins left at noon today for Raleigh to be present tomorrow at a meeting of the directors of the Carolina Benevolent Association.

Everybody will admit that a stout man, wearing an ill-fitting suit, is an object of pity. Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud advertise the kind that fit.

Prof. Herbert McNairy, who has been spending the summer here with his parents, will leave tonight for Chester, S. C., to open the fall session of his school there. He is also one of the

The conductor on the Tinsonlake had a hard time today with a passenger who came in on 36. He had bought a scalper's ticket which was not transferable, but the conductor made some arrangement by which he could take him along.

Mrs. Watlington's boarding house on South Elm street is being repaired and enlarged. Two new rooms will be added in front and a new porch will be built. This improvement will add much to the beauty and convenience of the place.

"Monk" Orrell and John Robertson, both white, were arrested and placed in the lock-up last night for breaking into the house of Will Lloyd. Will says they broke the door down and came in and beat him. They will be tried this afternoon.

Drunk and reckless boys are doing damage to property on Asheboro street at night. Last night a valuable awning frame was damaged by the boys swinging on it. These people pay taxes and are entitled to have their property protected. An officer should be stationed in that portion of the town.

Parties from Greensboro who attended the rally at Asheboro yesterday returned last night and reported a great time. They say our special from Asheboro yesterday placed an entirely too low an estimate on the number present, and instead of four thousand there were at least five thousand people present.

Col. John A. Barringer left on the 8:50 train this morning for Durham to attend a meeting of the democratic judicial committee, of which he is a member. The committee meets today to select a candidate for solicitor, the place made vacant by the resignation of R. B. Boone. Col. Barringer would not say whom he thought was the favorite of the committee.

Judge Dick's Critical Condition.

For some time the condition of Judge Dick has been extremely critical. Occasionally he would rally and his friends saw a gleam of hope, but today he is very low and the anxious watchers would not be surprised for the grim reaper to claim him at any moment. Relatives out of the city have been summoned to his bedside, and near him are faithful and fond loved ones who would fain have him linger here. It is not thought he will rally.

Another Business Firm.

The store room in the Clegg block which was for a long time occupied by W. E. Holley, but more recently by C. G. Sherwood, is being remodeled and will be occupied by P. Kolman, a tailor from Danville. This store will be a branch of Mr. Kolman's tailoring establishment in Danville, and will be first-class and up-to-date in every particular. Mr. J. I. Rogers, an experienced tailor who has heretofore been connected with the Danville store, will be manager of this branch. Watch for his announcement in the Telegram.
